

ERP POLICY

The Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences thinks that the governance of the academic system should be implemented using automated and basic methods. A number of tasks, including planning, developing, administering, and managing exams, are essential to the educational system and have been regarded as independent modules. Numerous pieces of data are involved in these functions, and they must be boldly handled and saved. Another feature of this data is that it is continuously expanding as each day goes by. Thus, a systematic approach to the daily organizing of this data is needed. Each module has been allocated a tool for this reason, and many of these tools are internally developed and deployed to make organization easier. The ERP system provides e-governance to the majority of the institution's functional bodies. The ERP system displays the transparency of all college operations. Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences makes sure that every ERP tool used inside the institution is secured with a unique user ID and password, and that access to the tools is restricted to a small number of individuals in order to ensure data security.

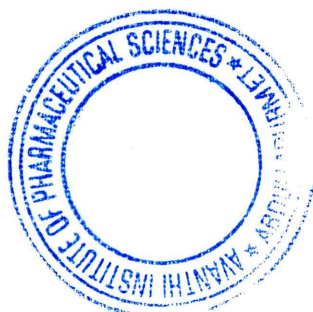

The Enterprise resource planning (ERP) of Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences consists of a portal: <https://aipsg.ac.in> that enables the smooth functioning of the academic activities of the college. This facilitates three types of users- Developer, Admin and Students to access the portal. Each user can access the portal only through User name and password.

▶ DeveloperLogin

Unique user ID and password required for access, only available to S/W developers. Every animation that is needed for the portal can be done by the developer using this login.

▶ FileUploading:

There will be uploads of files including academic calendars, exam dates, results, and critical announcements.

► Student wise result:

Every time a student takes an exam, the outcome varies. This needs to be updated frequently.

► Department wise result:

Results are arranged based on the student's strength each year when analyzing a semester's performance in relation to a specific department.

2. ADMINISTRATION

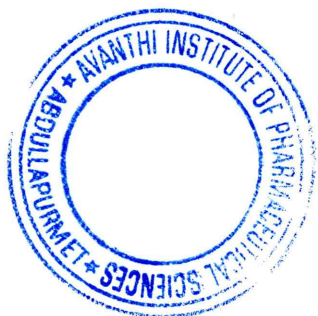

At Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences, surveillance, grievance reporting, library, and attendance are all handled via Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) technologies. Biometric fingerprint attendance system, web-enabled grievance reporting system, library management system, and surveillance system. These solutions assist in obtaining crucial data about staff members and kids, preserve records kept as digital data, and cut down on paper usage. Library books are automatically issued and returned. Every new book is tracked in the system, and each one is given a unique number for quick identification. Reporting problems to the grievance and redressal cell is made simple via the website. Improved security and monitoring are made possible by the college's surveillance system.

2.1 ERP in Recording Attendance

Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences will always be in the forefront of utilizing contemporary technology to reduce the need for human labor and greatly simplify tasks compared to earlier times. A biometric fingerprint attendance system has been implemented on campus to track staff attendance, which is then utilized to determine monthly salaries.

2.1.1 Attendance acquisition through Biometric

The Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences views biometric finger print attendance systems as a dependable method free from errors or proxies. Our work is made simple and dependable by this technology, which gives us recorded data together with a time stamp.

3. FINANCE AND ACCOUNTS

The Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences places a strong emphasis on the degree of precision that can be obtained in situations involving the highest level of sensitivity. Financial management is one area in which precision is extremely important. Sophisticated software will be required for financial operations such the payment of academic fees, fines, exam fees, scholarship assignments to underprivileged students, and the creation of reports for audits. The transactions that occur within the institution determine its stability, which in turn has an impact on how well it operates.

My Class Board and FOCUS are two programs that are used as part of Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences' Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) for Finance and Accounting and are shown to be highly efficient in handling financial matters.

❖ Online fee payment portal:

Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences holds a payment portal in its webpage facilitating the students to pay fee online without delay and avoiding queues.

3.1. FOCUS

FOCUS is an effective method for managing finances. The accounting module facilitates effective financial administration and the movement of funds both inside and outside the company. In order to meet the needs of financial management more effectively and facilitate the generation of receipts, Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences uses another effective technology called FOCUS.

4. STUDENTS ADMISSION AND SUPPORT

The Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences allows students to pay their fees and submit admissions inquiries. The in-house development of the fee payment and admission inquiry webpages gives students convenient access to pay their fees without wasting time thanks to the online portal's payment option.

Through the website, a person can contact college staff to inquire about admissions from anywhere in the world.

My Class Board:

The Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences' Financial Management department makes use of a potent instrument. You can utilize My Class Board, a cloud-based tool, from any location in the world. This utility is limited to a very small number of users and is password-protected. Using a single interface, this technology makes it easier to handle fees, assign scholarships, and transfer funds.

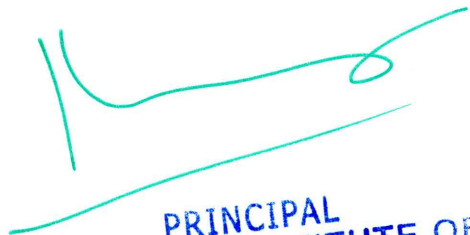

❖ Online Admission forms:

The Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences makes it easier to fill out admission forms and inquire about available college seats through their website.

❖ Feedback:

Through three different forms on its website, the Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences allows parents, students, and professors to submit input to the administration regarding the curriculum and help shape the academic program.

5.Examinations

The Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences supports the management of data through the use of both basic and advanced technologies. There will be multiple data streams available for the examinations, all of which need to be kept in an orderly fashion. When it comes to saving time and resources, this data need to be accessible with just one click. For this purpose “Avanthi Portal” a gateway for storing the exam related data present in the avanthi webpage: <https://aipsg.ac.in/> was developed for our Institution by the Department of pharmacy.

The Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences' Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) for examinations includes the use of the Avanthi portal, which allows staff, students, and administration to monitor results each semester and access various departmental, overall, and individual student analyses. Calendars and academic results are updated on the notification section, which is likewise hosted by Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences.
